About the Programme

CompTIA SecurityX (CAS-005), formerly known as CASP+, is the advanced-level security practitioner credential for professionals who design, implement, and lead enterprise security solutions. Unlike managerial certifications, SecurityX emphasises hands-on technical mastery at the architect and engineer level.

EduEdge's SecurityX programme is designed for senior security practitioners ready to move beyond analyst work into security architecture, engineering, and leadership. The curriculum covers risk governance, cryptography, enterprise security integration, and advanced threat management.
